"The barn of Clerk Jonn C. McEldowney, at New Martinsville, was set on fire by incendiaries on the evening of the 21st, and by an almost superhuman effort Mr. McEldowney succeeded in saving his cow and horses. The whistles in the town blowan alarm, and in almost an instant there was an army of willing clittens to help quell the destroyer. It was hard work to save the adjoining outbuildings. Mr. McEldowney's loss is estimated at about $1,000, upon which there is no insurance. The circumstances connected with the burning of this barn point to the fact of an attempt to rob the town. No arrest have been made as yet."

SEC, 2. The money collected by virtue of this act shall be assessed, levied and collected in addition to the money assessed, levied and collected for other purposes by said city under the present laws.

SEC, 3. The money raised by virtue hereof shall be used for no other purpose than that named in the first section, and the use of such funds for any other purpose, may be restrained by injunction upon a bill filed by any one or more taxpayers of said city.

It was expected that the Council of this city would take advantage of the authority granted it in this act, and provide for the assessment and collection of the tax mentioned in it, at the time the last levy was made. So strong was the impression mentioned in it, at the time the last levy was made. So strong was the impression that this would be done, that the city collector deferred printing his blanks for some time in expectation that a section would be required to note this particular tax in the bills rendered. No action however was taken by Council, and the levy was made without any mention of this particular tax. It may be that the fact that the money to be collected was to be applied exclusively to new work, had something to do with the failure to provide for its collection. The fact to be kept in mind, however, is that ample authority exists to provide for streets that need improvement most, and all that the people have to do, who are disgusted with their present situation, is to push the two branches up to the point of using the means provided for their improvement.

DISTRICTING THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.— Captain Wm. Eccles, for a long time, has felt the necessity of devising some means by which the city can be better protected from danger by fire should more than one occur at a time, and also to relieve the department of the present inconveniences, and also obviate the necessity of bringing out all the engines to every trifling fire, and, as a result, has,
with the co-operation of the Mayor, made
a distribution of boxes into three districts,
as follows:

FIRST DISTRICT.

12-Bell's Foundry.

16-Vigilant Engine Houd
24-Bridge Corner.

The towboat Iron Mountain left St. Louis a few days ago with 270,000 bushels of corn, said to be the largest cargo of grain ever carried on fresh water. She carries it to New Orleans, the freight bill amounting to a fraction less than $30,000. She has five barges in tow. Talk about your railroads—how's that for one trip. New York Commercial Bulletin on wharfage: "No Turk or Arab demanding 'baksheesh' from the unfortunate merchant or traveler that happens to come within the sphere of his operations receives less consideration than vessel owners at the hands of the people who control our commercial front. tittle role. The lady proved a pleasant actress, as well as vocalist. She has a fine stage presence, and at once became a favorite. Her singing of the Wine Song, in the second act, narrowly escaped a triple encore. Mr. Tilla, the tenor, was spirited in his acting, and his fifte singing won much applause. James Vincent, as 'Bolero,' the father of the troublesome twins, proved himself a good comedian, and kept his audience in high good humor. Louis Natal is a man of great physique, almost a giant in size, and looked the savage 'Moor' to perfection. He did nobly. Miss Hurching, as 'Anna,' has too handsome a face to hide under an old woman's wig, but sang and acted the part very cleverly. The chorus was good, and the orchestra, increased for the occasion, did good service. The company, taken as a whole, is a strong one, and should receive a liberal patronage during their stay.'
